Vandals run riot inside Scout HQ

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SCOUTS returning from a camping trip discovered their headquarters had been broken into and graffiti scrawled on the walls.

The buildings in Colne Valley Road, Haverhill, are used by more than 200 scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies each week. Over last weekend, locks were broken off the door, fire extinguishers let off, graffiti left on inside and outside walls and equipment strewn across the room.

Jan Jennings, of 2nd Haverhill Sea Scout Troop, said: "I got a call on Sunday night to go down there, because a couple of people had come back from camping and found the place had been broken into.

"They had broken the locks off the doors and just basically made a mess. They let off fire extinguishers, left a rude note on the blackboard and spray-painted a pattern on the wall.

"As far as we know, nothing was stolen; they had just gone through everything and made a mess.

"If there is anything valuable, leaders take it home with them, and there is never any cash down there. The sad thing is, if it is kids breaking in, they are just ruining it for other kids living in the town. It is not nice to think that people are breaking in and making such a mess.

"We are going to have to get a new door and new locks, which might not sound much, but when you are trying to raise funds, every penny counts.

"It's a constant battle to raise funds to keep the building going and perhaps in the future to be able to build a new one. When something like this happens you have to spend money that you were not expecting to."

Haverhill Police are appealing for information about the damage, which was caused between 5pm last Friday, June 15 and 1.30pm on Sunday.

Police are keen to speak to anyone who may have seen or heard anything in the area at the time. Calls can be made to Sgt Gary Miller on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Two teens arrested in probe into disused school fire

TWO teenagers have been arrested on suspicion of setting fire to a disused school – one of them by officers arriving at his classroom.

The 14-year-old and 17-year-old, both from Haverhill, were arrested on suspicion of arson in relation to the fire which destroyed the former Castle Hill Middle School building in School Lane, Haverhill, on Sunday, June 3. They were released on bail until August 15.

Meanwhile Insp Peter Ferrie, Haverhill's sector commander, has urged more witnesses to the fire to come forward – and in particular anyone in the area who had a blue wheelie bin stolen, which was believed to have been used to start the blaze.

Inspector Ferrie said: "I am delighted we have made real progress in this investigation. We still need more information from the public to help us charge any offenders who might have been involved.

"We still have a lot of detailed information to process from members of the public and we need more information on exactly what happened that night.

"During the arrests, houses were searched and laptops, phones and other communication devices were seized, which will be examined.

"It was an unusual step to go into the school, but I felt it was necessary, because of the length of time that had passed since the incident."

Meanwhile, a spokesman for Suffolk County Council said no date had yet been set for demolition of the building, which had been empty for almost a year, until confirmation was received that work to disconnect the gas and electricity supplies to the site were complete.

Armed Forces Day to debut

A CHANCE for Haverhill residents to show their appreciation for serving troops and to see what services life has to offer is provided at its first Armed Forces Day on Saturday, June 30.

Haverhill Royal British Legion branch is organising the day, which is aimed to become an annual event, on the town's Recreation Ground in Camps Road from 10.30am to 3.30pm.

There will be displays by the Royal British Legion, Air and Army Cadets and the Armed Forces recruiting team, as well as a rally car exhibition, quad bikes, face painting/camouflage, a bouncy castle and refreshments. The event will be in support of the Help for Heroes fund.

We'll rise from the ashes

Shock: general manager Glen Mejias and operations manager Andy Kearsey survey the damage.

TWO Haverhill men were due in court today over the fire which destroyed barns at Chilford Hall.

Mark Hall, 27, and Thomas Richardson, 26, appeared before magistrates in Cambridge last week charged with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life in relation to the fire at the wedding venue early last Wednesday.

They were remanded in custody to appear at Cambridge Crown Court today.

Meanwhile, a bride who thought her wedding dreams were dashed when two historic barns used as wedding and conference venues at the hall in Linton burned down has said her big day had been a "dream come true" after amazing efforts from the venue's staff.

Cherry Hinton couple Emma Farr and Greg Smith were devastated when they discovered the 18th century Grade II-listed site was the victim of an arson attack on Wednesday morning – just two days before their big day.

They had planned to celebrate their reception at the hall's pavilion.

But the happy couple, who have been together since they met at school six years ago, tied the knot last Friday and were still able to have their day at the event venue in a marquee with 200 guests.

Emma, 24, and Greg, 26, were astounded by the efforts of staff from Chilford Hall, who "saved the day".

Greg said: "Words cannot

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

describe what Chilford has managed to do for us; it's just amazing."

"When we turned up on Wednesday, the firefighters were still here. We didn't know what was going to happen. Emma had her heart set on Chilford and we didn't want to change to another venue. We're so happy we stayed here. It's better than we could have imagined."

Emma was speechless when she walked into the marquee decked out with her turquoise wedding-theme tables, laid ready for her 100 guests, and the wedding cake ready to cut.

She said when the couple's first venue fell through just two months ago, Chilford Hall staff saved the day – and now they have done it again.

Emma, a project leader at engineering firm TWI, added: "When Kim from Chilford was ringing me at 6am on Wednesday in front of a burning building, I thought that was it.

"The team worked so hard and this is 10 times better than I could have imagined. All my dreams have come true. I love it and I wouldn't change a single thing."

Fiona Alper, of Chilford Hall, said: "My team here have been incredible. It's amazing what they've done in just two days. They have been working round the clock to pull this off. I've had hundreds of letters, cards and flowers from people. It's such a tragedy – it's like there's been a death in the family."

The successful reception was just the first step of the venue's recovery – the owners of the hall have vowed to rise from the ashes after the devastating blaze.

Firefighters stopped the fire spreading to the main house, wine store and shop, but the 18th century Linton Barn and the Grade II-listed Great Hall, which dates to 1820, were lost, as were the adjoining Pavilion and Gallery.

Fiona, owner of the family-run events centre, said: "We have been overwhelmed by the positive reaction from the local community and would like to thank everyone for sending us their messages of support."

She hopes to meet planning officers at South Cambs District Council "as soon as possible" to discuss a rebuild.

She also thanked the police and fire service for their response to the blaze.

The value of the damage is not yet known but Sam Alper, who bought Chilford Hall in 1965, was an avid art collector and a number of paintings by Robert Lenkiewicz, and a carved wood frieze by celebrated artist and engraver Sir Frank Brangwyn, were lost in the inferno.

Happy: Emma Farr and Greg Smith hold their wedding reception at Chilford Hall as planned.

Knife man told he could face prison

A MAN who admitted false imprisonment of a woman and having a knife in a public place has been warned that he could face a prison sentence. Derek Bowering, 42, of Abbots Road, Haverhill, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court on Monday, where he pleaded guilty to twice being in possession of a bladed article in a public place and one of false imprisonment.

The court heard that Bowering had been in possession of a kitchen knife in Chilton Street, Clare, and Chapel Drive, Haverhill, both on January 31. Bowering also pleaded guilty to an offence of false imprisonment of a woman in Clare on the same date. Judge Rupert Overbury told Bowering that he would continue to be remanded in custody until he is sentenced on July 16. Ordering the preparation of a pre-sentence report by the Probation Service, Judge Overbury told Bowering that it did not mean that an immediate prison sentence was being ruled out. When Bowering is sentenced the court will also consider psychiatric reports.

Petrol and mower among stolen haul

THREE outbuildings were broken into in the same village overnight. Police are appealing for information following a series of burglaries in Cowlinge between 10pm last Friday and the following morning. A 20-gallon metal container containing petrol, a Mountfield 182 lawnmower and a Makita strimmer were stolen from one storage building. Two full five-litre cans of petrol, a Honda petrol strimmer and a Honda hedge trimmer were stolen from one garage, while a full five-litre petrol can was taken from another. Police are would like to hear from anyone who may have seen any suspicious vehicles in the area at that time. Calls can be made to PC Robert Buntton on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Police discover cannabis in house

CANNABIS was discovered when police searched a house in Haverhill. Simon Plumridge, of Garlands Close, has been charged with possession with intent to supply the class B drug. The 30-year-old will appear at West Suffolk Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, June 26, having been arrested in the raid on Wednesday.

Fun in the park for mums and babies

FAMILIES are invited to take their picnics and enjoy a fun day in the park on Sunday. The local branch of the Breastfeeding Network is helping to celebrate the national organisation's 15th anniversary by organising a Mums Milk Run at Haverhill's East Town park in Couplands Road from 11am to 4pm. Members of the group will push their buggies and walk toddlers round a 1.5-mile walk. There will also be face-painting, fun and games, stalls and pampering, plus a raffle with lots of prizes. # 'Thank you for helping to put us on the map'

SARAH Howard has stepped down from her role as chairman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce – after rounding off four years in office by attending the Queen's garden party at Sandringham.

At Tuesday's chamber AGM, Sarah, 44, was presented with a cut-glass bowl in recognition of her hard work while serving the maximum term of four years as chairman.

Current vice-chairman Justin Friend was elected as her successor, with Paul Donno becoming vice-chairman.

Sarah, a director of Sarand Business Software, was praised by colleagues for the 'outstanding' work she has done in raising the profile of Haverhill locally and nationally.

Sarah said: "It has been an extremely interesting four years. I had no idea what I was letting myself in for when I said yes. I have spent a great deal of time out of my comfort zone, but I have really enjoyed it. I have met some fascinating people and been enormously challenged."

John Dugmore, chairman of Suffolk Chamber of Commerce, to which Haverhill Chamber is affiliated, said: "Sarah has done an amazing job in the last four years. The chamber has gone from strength to strength under her leadership and the profile of Haverhill has been raised not only locally but nationally, particularly in Westminster."

"We look forward to working with the new chairman to continue building on the chamber's success and representing the views and needs of businesses in Haverhill."

Matthew Hancock MP added his congratulations and said: "Over the time I've known Sarah she has proved to be extremely helpful to me with her inside knowledge of the Haverhill business community.

"I admire her drive and enthusiasm, which has helped to promote and enhance Haverhill's business reputation as a town on the up."

Sarah will remain in her position as board member of Suffolk Chamber of Commerce and continue to work to promote Haverhill's interests.

Justin said: "Sarah has done an amazing job. She has ensured the chamber is in a fantastic shape with a growing membership and reputation and, on behalf of everyone both committee and members, I would like to say a huge thank-you for everything she has done to promote Haverhill and business in the last four years."

"People can sometimes forget that being part of the chamber committee is a voluntary role and one which a small number devote a lot of time to, on top of running businesses, to ensure other firms in the town are heard."

Police spearhead metal crackdown

POLICE in Suffolk have launched an initiative aimed at reducing the sale and movement of stolen scrap metal in the county.

Metal theft is one of the fastest-rising crimes in the UK. Influenced by commodity prices the problem spans across the country and affects homes, communities, industry, telecoms, transport and commerce – and is costing millions.

Operation Tornado is a joint initiative between police, British Transport Police, HMRC and the environmental agency. It has already been introduced in a number of police forces that have since seen significant reductions in metal thefts. The operation is now due to be rolled out throughout the country by October, beginning with Suffolk from this month.

The idea is to work in partnership with scrap dealers in order to deter and detect metal thefts by making it easier to trace those selling it. A set of identification measures have been set up that will be used at all participating scrap yards.

Sites which are part of the initiative will request evidence of identity from anyone disposing of metal for cash payment in the form of a UK photocard driving licence or a UK passport supported by a utility bill with the seller's current address. Failure to produce identification of this nature will mean that no transaction will take place.

Business loans scheme on the agenda at bestofhaverhill group

AN unusual approach to business funding is being unveiled at a meeting today.

The bestofhaverhill group was due to hold its next business meeting at The Days Inn, Haverhill, from 10am to 11.30am, with guest speaker Richard Glinn, marketing and membership manager at Foundation East.

Mr Glinn was set to explain how Foundation East provides alternative funding strategies for small businesses which may have been turned down for bank loans for a variety of reasons. Founded in 2004 Foundation East, a community finance organisation, offers loans to viable existing and start-up businesses across the East of England.

Elaine Carr, owner of thebestofhaverhill said: "Access to funding continues to be a hot topic. The last quarterly report issued by the Bank of England highlighted that almost £100bn of lending had been taken out of the economy over the last three-and-a-half years. The Government has stated that small businesses are the growth engine of the economy but I'm sure we are all aware of businesses whose growth is being stifled because they cannot access the funds they require."

"Organisations like Foundation East offer a lifeline to these companies they recognise that business is about people as well as numbers."

Cautioned over letters

A MAN who sent malicious and racist letters to a business in Haverhill has been cautioned by police. The 29-year-old sent letters to two residents in Haverhill late last year. He also sent letters to local newspapers. Through a police investigation he was identified and interviewed by officers. He was cautioned on Friday, June 8. The letter was sent out to two businesses in the town centre by the hoaxer who made it appear it was written on behalf of CXG Property Services.

Volunteers thanked with lunch – and a medal

VOLUNTEERS who help out at a befriending scheme have been treated to lunch – and others are wanted to join them.

As part of Volunteers Week 2012, Haverhill Volunteer Centre arranged an activity day and a lunch for volunteers and the members who attend the Suffolk Befriending Scheme. The event celebrated Volunteers Week and was a thank-you to volunteers who work each week with the group.

The 37 members were presented with certificates and a medal which made the event a memorable occasion.

Elaine Hewes, manager of Haverhill Volunteer centre, said: "Volunteers are the backbone of the local community. If you have an hour or two to spare and would like to get involved in the community, here are a few of areas that volunteers are involved in: visiting the elderly, supporting families, youth work and conservation work." # Celebrating quarter of a century of friendship

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CELEBRATIONS have taken place for a quarter of a century of friendship offered at a centre which was created from two derelict cottages.

Next Door, which offers coffee and conversation at its base next to the Methodist Church in Camps Road, Haverhill, celebrated its 25th anniversary at the weekend.

Former minister Penry Hughes, who was at the church when the centre opened, returned for the celebration with his wife Evelyn.

Former minister the Rev George Sharman originally bought the pair of cottages next door to the church but no use was found for them, apart from storage, and they deteriorated rapidly.

In 1982, new minister, Rev Penry Hughes, had a vision for these to become a place for anyone to call in for a cup of tea and a listening ear, – so the name 'Next Door' was adopted.

Eventually, in 1985, plans were passed and the Church Council supported the project, despite the fact that the church had few financial reserves. Work started to transform derelict and eyesore cottages to a bright, welcoming building, open to all.

Church spokesman Kathy Cohen said: "A completely dedicated team of men, led by Ray Shanks, committed themselves to two years of work on Saturday mornings (and a few on Wednesday evenings).

"The men were of all ages and had no building experience. Two phases of the work were carried out by local builders – one complete side was demolished and rebuilt and the whole roof was dismantled and also rebuilt.

Idea: Rev Penry Hughes.

"Our present co-ordinator, Roger Arrowsmith, worked in a professional capacity on the project also. A team of ladies provided cuppas and refreshments and a very united and loving spirit grew.

"One of our members, Les Howard, a local preacher and circuit steward, had spent many years working with the Samaritans. He gave up this voluntary work and promised to lead the team in Next Door. Work was completed at 2pm on Saturday, June 20, 1987 and Next Door officially opened at 3pm.

"Especially in the early years, there were several customers with desperate needs, and a few leaders gave a listening ear at all hours of the day and night. Throughout, many members have given their time selflessly and willingly to serve those who visit us, not forgetting those who give their time and money baking cakes each week."

The total cost of the building project was £42,000, all paid for by donations from church members.

Transformation: Next door as it is today, above, and right, before the renovation work was carried out in the 1980s; below, men hard at work bringing about the new look. CP

Cheap homes for land near prison

NEW affordable homes are to be built near a prison thanks to grant aid from a national charitable fund.

Residents of the Highpoint Estate in Stradishall hope to establish a Community Land Trust to acquire surplus publicly-owned land adjacent to Highpoint prison.

The land will then be used to build new affordable homes which will be available for occupation by people that are in housing need and who live or work in the parish of Stradishall.

The grant of £5,000 will be used by the residents to pay for essential professional advice as they develop their business plans. It is expected that contractors will be starting work on site in 2013.

They were one of a number of community groups wanting to set up Community Land Trusts who obtained technical assistance grants from the CLT Fund.

The fund was established by four national charities to provide early-stage finance to CLT projects. Both groups are being supported by Foundation East, the regional support organisation for CLTs.

Foundation East will continue to help local groups scope out their business plans and produce development proposals which are "investment-ready".

iPhones and laptop taken in daylight raid at home

TWO mobile phones and a laptop were stolen in a daytime burglary from a village home.

Police are appealing for information following the burglary between 2.30pm and 3.45pm on Sunday in the Thorns Corner area of Wickhambrook.

Entry was forced through the kitchen window and a brown bag, two iPhone 4GS handsets and a Dell Inspiron laptop were stolen.

Police would like to hear from anyone who might have seen or heard anything suspicious in the area over the weekend.

Calls can be made to PC Barry Teare on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Teddies help kids to boost charity

LOTS of teddy bears paid a visit to a playgroup and helped their young owners to raise money for a charity.

Children at the Stepping Stones under-5s group in Haverhill took part in the national "Bring Your Bear, Show You Care" day, organised by Action Medical Research for Children.

A total of 19 children from across the two sessions participated by bringing in a £2 donation and their teddy bear for lots of fun.

This is a special year for Action Medical Research as the group is celebrating 60 years of vital research. Founded in 1952, the charity's early research contributed to the development and rapid adoption of the first oral polio vaccine, which led to the eradication of new cases of the disease in the UK. Since then the charity has spent more than £100m on medical breakthroughs that have helped save thousands of children's lives.

A total of £38 was raised by Stepping Stones with all the children taking part receiving a certificate and a sticker.

Past key to future of Research Park

ROADS and infrastructure at Haverhill Research Park should be completed by next spring, after work is done which could reveal more about the past history of the site.

The plan is to bring the Cambridge Science Park environment to the town and provide a new home for technology companies on the Suffolk, Essex and Cambridgeshire border.

The 29-acre site, at an important "gateway" position, entering the town from the Cambridge direction, has planning consent for office/laboratory buildings, hoped to include an Innovation Centre with educational links, as well as a hotel, family restaurant and creche, plus 150 new homes. A new virtual tour of the proposed park is available on the park's website and bespoke buildings could be created there ready next year.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Initial archaeological digs on the site revealed evidence of Iron Age and Roman settlements and Suffolk County Council called for further investigation at a cost of £250,000 to developer Carisbrooke Developments.

Nic Rumsey, director of Carisbrooke said: "While we are working to promote the future economic growth of Haverhill, we are, of course, keen to participate in discovering the archaeological history of this important gateway site. We hope that these works will extend our knowledge of human history well beyond the limits of existing written records."

Joe Abrams, regional manager of Headland Archaeology, which is carrying out the investigation, said: "This is a welcome opportunity to reveal and investigate the remains of both prehistoric and Roman farming communities.

"We believe the remains at Haverhill span both of these crucial periods, allowing us to tell the story of a Suffolk farming community on a local level and to reflect on how these major events affected their way of life."

Following completion of the on-site investigations in July, the archaeological team will prepare a detailed analysis of the samples – seeds, insects and other microscopic remains – which is due to be published in 2013.

Haverhill Leisure Centre

PERSONAL trainer Matt Fitch has completed a gruelling 44-mile run to commemorate D-Day and raised £1,500 in vital funds for injured British soldiers.

Matt, 26, who works at Haverhill Leisure Centre, is a former private in the Parachute Regiment and the current ISKA British Thai Boxing Champion. He completed the D-Day 44 Run in 8 hours 26 minutes and finished fourth, despite an injury.

The event, held on June 6 in Normandy, is held annually to commemorate the 1944 allied invasion of occupied France. The money raised by Matt will be given to the British Limbless Ex Servicemen's Association.

Matt said: "It was a lot harder than I thought. I was running through rape and corn fields, stinging nettles and beach dunes, battling through woods. I was winning the race until about 36 miles in, when I rolled my ankle. It was extremely painful and I was gutted but I finished in fourth place.

"There were loads of Second World War exhibits on the beach to remind us why we were there. To think what our grandfathers achieved there on that beach was inspiring and with the many pledges of sponsorship from friends, family, gym members and colleagues, there was no way I was going to stop despite being in so much pain. I have to thank all those who donated."

Matt, pictured at Pegasus Bridge, is still accepting donations for the British Limbless Ex Servicemen's Association – visit www.justgiving.com/matt-fitch.

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a group of children. Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken?

Send your answers to: Memories, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF by Tuesday morning, or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Picture: 548246

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed prompted a response from Denise Brooke (nee Baker), who emailed in to say: "I can indeed identify them as I was one of them! I am, from the left, the sixth person along at the front (well, just poking my head through), between the girl in the spotty top and the girl with the white top. "The photo was taken when I was at Westfield Primary School and a group of us painted the underpass (under Manor Road) not far from Westfield. I remember painting pictures of fishes etc. My sister Clair, who is six years older than me, also helped us paint along with a few others. It was part of a project to brighten up the underpass. Unfortunately it didn't take long for some vandals to spray paint all over it again! "I can't remember the exact date of this photo, but, as I'm now 33 years old and this was taken when I was at Westfield, I would assume it is somewhere between 20-25 years old! "I now no longer live in Haverhill but I saw the picture after it was forwarded to me. I can't believe how long ago it was!" The picture was taken in April 1988, Denise.

Huge crowd due for torch relay

HUGE crowds could flock to Haverhill to see the Olympic Torch pass through – and businesses are being urged to make the most of the event.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, police sector commander for Haverhill, said discussions were under way to organise the torch procession through the town on Saturday, July 7 and initially it was estimated that a crowd of between 5,000 and 6,000 could be expected.

Plans were now being adjusted in the likelihood that much bigger crowds could attend.

Insp Ferrie said: "When you look around the country at similar towns to Haverhill, there have been 20,000 to 25,000 people, with everyone from neighbouring places visiting, so we could get a massive amount of people coming in.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"We are working closely with the borough council and the town council to make sure that we get everything sorted so that everyone will be safe and secure. The torch comes with quite a heavy convoy of vehicles behind it."

The torch is due to arrive in Haverhill at about 2.30pm and take half an hour to travel from Camps Road, into the High Street, down Mount Road to Ehringshausen Way, then on to Watting Road. No parking will be allowed on roads along the route and they will be closed to traffic before and after the torch parade.

The market will be moved on to the Market Square for the day and street entertainment will be provided as part of the Haverhill Festival.

Businesses in Suffolk are being urged to make sure they are ready for the Olympic Torch's arrival in the county and think about what they can do to prepare for and capitalise on the spectacle, which has so far attracted crowds in excess of 100,000 a day.

There will be 12 torchbearers in the town, including Haverhill residents Paralympian Caroline Maclean and teenager Izzy Gower.

Cllr Colin Noble, Suffolk County Council's cabinet member responsible for sport and the London 2012 Games, said: "We've already seen the public interest the Olympic torch is creating and we want our local businesses to be able to make the most of that."

Advice on planning for the torch relay has been published on Suffolk County Council's website www.suffolk.gov.uk/readyforthe\_torch.

John's still flying high at 100

Picture: Richard Patterson 835416.

VILLAGERS and friends got together to celebrate the 100th birthday of John Archer, who recently enjoyed a celebration plane flight and could have another on the cards.

Mr Archer, who lives in Thurlow, has never flown abroad and had wanted to fly over the area where he lives. Terry Holloway, deputy chairman of Cambridge Airport, took Mr Archer up for a spin in a Cambridge Aero Club Cessna plane.

On Saturday Mr Archer was guest of honour at a party at the Cock Inn, Thurlow, to celebrate his birthday.

Joining the guests was a representative of Essex Gliding Club, who wanted to offer him a trip with the club. The club is based at an ex-war-time airfield near Ridgewell about four miles to the east of Haverhill, and is offering to take Mr Archer in an aerotowed glider, to give him an aerial view of his house.

Pressure mounts on NHS chiefs

FIGHT FOR HAVERHILL
SERVICES

PRESSURE is mounting on NHS Suffolk to make better provision for healthcare in Haverhill when the town's walk-in clinic closes next month.

Already close to 3,500 people have signed the petition launched by the Weekly News and Haverhill Town Council for more health provision in the town.

MP Matthew Hancock held a meeting with the town's GPs last Friday and has asked Dr Paul Watson, head of NHS Suffolk to discuss the situation with the doctors.

Mr Hancock said: "My priority is the future of healthcare in Haverhill and I have raised the concerns of GPs and patients about the abrupt closure of the Crown Health Centre and the need to handle the transition."

"I have requested that Paul Watson, head of NHS Suffolk, meets Haverhill's GPs. NHS Suffolk's budget rose by £24m last year and it is only fair that some of the savings from the Crown Health Centre closure are invested in Haverhill's health."

Meanwhile Margaret Marks, for many years co-ordinator of the town's team of First Responders and wife of Mayor of St Edmundsbury Cllr Tim Marks, has written to Dr Ed Garratt, deputy director of GP commissioning for NHS East of England, slating the way the closure of the popular Crown Health Centre has been handled.

She wrote: "As has been noted endlessly, the Crown Health Centre NEVER provided the facilities which would enable it effectively to reduce the attendance at A&E as determined in the original plan. They provided NOTHING extra to our own surgeries except longer operating hours AND they removed substantial sums from our existing resources."

"Despite endless requests we have never been provided with statistical data relating to the reasons why people from this area attend A&E which, in my view, would be absolutely crucial in determining the service provision needed."

Some GPs at the Christmas Maltings and Clements surgery in Haverhill were taking part in today's BMA industrial action by seeing emergency patients only.

Woman duped by bogus caller

AN elderly woman was duped by a bogus water official and money was stolen from her handbag.

Police are appealing for information following the distraction burglary in Kedington on Tuesday afternoon.

A man called at a house on Hall Road at around 5.30pm, claiming to be from Anglian Water. He said he needed to check that the water was running clear. He was admitted by the occupant, a woman in her 80s, and turned on taps throughout the property. After about five minutes he said he was happy and left.

A short time later, cash was found to be missing from a handbag in the lounge.

The man is described as white, with a pale complexion, 30 years old, 6ft tall, of slim build with short dark brown, spiky hair. He was wearing a white long-

Fears over funeral parlour plan for pub

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

RESIDENTS on a housing estate are horrified that a disused pub could be converted into a funeral parlour.

The former Vixen pub in Strasbourg Square, Haverhill, which is next to a busy fish and chip shop, a supermarket and a community centre, has been boarded up for some time.

Recently one local resident, who asked not to be named, saw work taking place at the pub and was told that a funeral director was planning to take it over, and also intended to create a venue for wakes.

He said: "As a local resident I am not very happy about it being used as a mortuary and I think other businesses might not like it so close to where people are going in and out buying food."

"I understand that the work was stopped and that the plans are going to be on display at the council offices. I don't think it is the right place for it, so close to people's homes and the shops. People might get quite depressed about being next to it.

"I am also concerned about the parking as I understand that 50 per cent of the car park is owned by the pub. When the fish shop is busy on a Friday night, you cannot get into that car park now, so what will it be like if only half of it is available?"

"Local residents have asked for more parking areas to be provided, but we have always been told it is not needed because people can use the car park, so this could make parking problems in the area worse."

Town councillor and new mayor Pat Hanlon said: "I have heard rumours about it, but I am on the town council planning committee and we have not had any application through for it. I would have thought it would need change of use consent. It is a strange thing, but I suppose people are not as religious these days, so they don't need a church."

A spokesman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said it would depend on what exact use was planned for the building whether planning consent was needed, adding: "We have not got a registered planning application at this time. We have received complaints about work being carried out to the building. We understand that only internal work is being carried out, which does not require planning permission."

Work taking place: fears are rife that The Vixen, a disused pub in Strasbourg Square, could be turned into a funeral parlour.

Top London musicians in concert

TOP London musicians will be performing at the next concert promoted by Haverhill Sinfonia as part of the Haverhill Festival.

The concert at Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday, June 24 at 7.30pm, features the professional Arnold Sinfonia, pictured, conducted by Kevin Hill.

The programme will begin with Legends 1-4 by Dvorák. Delius follows with Intermezzo (an orchestral interlude) from the opera Fennimore and Gerda. The first half closes with a set of Variations by Malcolm Arnold. Each short variation transforms the theme (by English composer, Ruth Gibbs) sometimes a light waltz, a march, frantic passages or lilting melodies.

Arnold's style is ever-present – he is perhaps best remembered for writing music for more than 80 films including

Battle of Britain, The Bridge on the River Kwai, The Inn of the Sixth Happiness and four St Trinian's films.

The second half is devoted to one work, The Third Symphony, The English by Hubert Parry.

Many people will know Parry's choral works – I Was Glad, Jerusalem and Blest Pair of Sirens but he also wrote five symphonies. Tickets cost £10 (concessions £6 and £2) and are available at the door or in advance by telephoning Haverhill Arts Centre on (01440) 714140.

Ex-soldier stole jewellery

A FORMER soldier stole irreplaceable family jewellery from his landlady, a court has heard.

Jordan Howlett, 21, had been lodging at the address in Warren Court, Haverhill, for six months when the offence took place.

Howlett appeared at Ipswich Crown Court on Monday, June 18, after pleading guilty at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court to an offence of burglary between January and July last year. He also admitted failing to surrender to custody.

BY COURT REPORTER

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Howlett was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment suspended for two years. He was ordered to complete 200 hours of unpaid community work, subjected to an overnight curfew for six months and ordered to pay £1,500 compensation.

Prosecuting, Simon Gladwell said that the woman who had taken Howlett in as a lodger had discovered that her jewellery was missing from where she had hidden it in a wardrobe. The jewellery included a wedding band, a pendant, a gold chain and a gold chain set with diamonds, worth a total of £1,500.

The court heard that the woman and her husband went to a pawnbrokers shop in Haverhill, where they established that Howlett had sold the jewellery for £615. In a statement, the woman said that the jewellery was "very dear" to her. It had been passed down through the family and could not be replaced.

She said it had huge sentimental value and she felt angry that she had trusted Howlett.

Mr Gladwell said the offence was a breach of trust which showed some degree of planning, as the items were hidden in the house.

Defending, Steven Dyble said that Howlett had been serving in the Royal Artillery and gone absent without leave after failing to be granted compassionate leave following the death of his grandfather and his girlfriend becoming pregnant.

Howlett had been unable to find any work and was desperate. He felt great remorse and he knew more than anybody how badly he had let the woman down.

Mr Dyball said: "It was a catastrophically bad decision to steal the jewellery." He told the court that Howlett was now in work and had become a father. It was unlikely that Howlett, now of Twentypence Lane, Wilburton, would offend again.

Sentencing him, Judge John Holt said: "This burglary took place at the home of the woman with whom you were lodging. You took advantage of this to steal jewellery with a value of £1,500 but a much greater sentimental value to the owner. It was a "serious breach of trust."

Public's views will help new police commissioner

MORE than 3,000 Suffolk residents will be quizzed in a telephone survey seeking their views about the service they receive from Suffolk Police.

Suffolk Police Authority has commissioned a telephone survey of 3,465 residents to be carried out this month. The information collated in the Local Policing Survey will be taken into account when the newly-elected Police and Crime Commissioner decides on the amount of council tax residents will pay next year.

The survey is being carried out now to gather up-to-date information to give the new commissioner a better understanding of the public's priorities as decisions are made on how policing in the county will be funded.

Questions posed in the survey will gauge views on levels of anti-social behaviour, the perception of crime, whether people feel safe in their community and whether they feel they get good value for money from the constabulary.

A Police and Crime Commissioner will be elected by the public in November this year and the successful candidate will take up their role on November 22. They will be responsible for ensuring that policing in Suffolk is efficient and effective.

They will also be responsible for all police funding, they will decide the budget, allocate funding and assets to the Chief Constable and determine the police element of council tax.

SCHOOLBOY Dylan Easton was on top of the world when kind-hearted well-wishers clubbed together to replace his stolen scooter.

But now the 6-year-old has extra cause for celebration – after his original scooter was handed in.

present money to buy, being stolen from outside Place Farm Primary School in Haverhill was featured in the Weekly News two weeks ago. Kind-hearted readers rallied round and raised the £120 value of the scooter and on Saturday morning Dylan was given his pick of the scooters at the Curb shop in Queens Square, Haverhill.

Mum Michelle Hayward, of Ickleton Place, said he was thrilled to receive his new scooter. Then when she took him to school on Monday morning she was amazed to be told that his original scooter had been handed in.

Mrs Hayward said: "I was called over and told that a mum had handed his scooter in. It was a bit muddy and some of the stickers had been taken off, but it is definitely his.

"He is absolutely ecstatic; he has been so miserable for weeks. I did not think he would ever get it back and we were so grateful to the people who paid for the new one. It was a real surprise – we did not expect that at all.

"He has got two brothers, so it will definitely come in useful for them. I am hoping to get the police to come along and do some cycle and scooter marking at the school fete on July 12."

Important announcement affecting your Freeview TV services.

Changes are being made to the Sudbury transmitter on Wednesday 27 June. If you use a Freeview* TV or box and find you are missing channels you will need to re-tune on or after this date to get them back.

How to re-tune using your TV remote

Make sure your Freeview TV or box is on and in digital mode, usually by pressing the DTV or digital button on your remote. Then press 'menu'.

Select the 'set up' or 'installation' option. If you see picture icons, select the tool box, satellite dish or spanner. If you are prompted for a code, try 0000 or 1234.

Select the full re-tune option. This is sometimes called 'first time installation', 'factory reset', 'default settings' or 'shipping conditions'. Do not select 'channel update' or 'add channels'.

Press 'OK' if your equipment asks if you want to delete all your channels. Don't worry, this is normal.

Channels will be automatically installed. This may take a few minutes and your equipment may shut down and restart.

These instructions are a guide only. For detailed re-tuning instructions of popular makes and models visit digitaluk.co.uk/retuning or call 08456 50 50 50.

Jack the lad – just a typical 18-year-old boy

BY LYDIA FALLON

Email: weeklies@cambridge-news.co.uk

JACK Clapson is just like any other teenage boy. He adores football, argues with his two younger sisters and could eat for England. He is chatty, attentive and full of energy but, for much of his life, the 18-year-old has had to fight for the right to be treated the same as everyone else.

Jack was born with Down's syndrome (DS) but his mum Tina, a nurse at Addenbrooke's, is determined that this won't hold him back. "I think it is important to get rid of the stereotypes," she says.

"Sometimes the attitude is very much 'why would you want a child with Down's syndrome?' But I think that's wrong, and better awareness would help people realise that actually, it's not a bad thing."

When Tina fell pregnant with Jack, aged 26, she and her husband were told blood tests signalled there was a slight risk that he could be born with Down's syndrome. They were offered amniocentesis, a test that would provide a definitive answer, but declined, knowing they wanted their baby, whatever the result.

Jack was born on August 1, 1993. He was a happy, bouncy baby boy but the doctor's fears were confirmed, and at five days old he was diagnosed with DS. No parent wants to find out that their child has something wrong with them, but the last thing Tina wanted was sympathy.

"We had tears – I think it was almost grieving for the child you thought you were going to have," she recalls. "But we were really happy and wanted to enjoy our first baby. We really wanted people to be happy for us and not to feel sympathy. We told close family and friends about the condition but with other friends we tended to wait a few weeks until they met Jack and held him rather than ringing everyone up and people saying how sorry they were.

"We wanted to get all the new baby cards and congratulations and for everyone to be happy for us, rather than sad."

Jack is one of an estimated 60,000 people in the UK living with Down's syndrome. It is a genetic condition that occurs because of an extra chromosome, making 47 instead of the usual 46. This additional genetic material changes the balance of the body and results in characteristic physical and intellectual features, ranging from shorter than average height to a poor immune system.

A lack of understanding leads many to believe that those with DS cannot lead a normal life – something that Tina has always strived to steer away from.

"Our attitude has always been to treat Jack the same as any child and see what help he needs along the way," she says. "He is a typical 18-year-old boy. He is lazy, can be grumpy and moody just like any other teenager. But in a way that is a good, because we want him to lead a normal life.

"Jack is really sociable, he loves being with people and adult conversation. We are really proud of all Jack's achievements, especially his personality and ability to communicate. People really warm to him and enjoy his company."

These social skills have meant that Jack was able to be brought up in mainstream education, attending his local primary school in Balsham before following his friends to Linton Village College.

He is now studying on the IDEAL course at Impington Village College and has career hopes and aspirations just like any other young person (playing for West Ham being the ultimate one!)

"I enjoy my course at Impington, especially when we get to play football," Jack laughs. "I play upfront!"

Shining a light on employment opportunities for people with DS was the main aim of the recent Down's Syndrome Awareness Week, an initiative that Tina is fully behind.

"Jack has done some good work experience, at the Fare shares café and the Cambridgeshire FA office, and really enjoyed that.

"Wherever he has been they say he is willing to try everything and just needs a little bit of guidance along the way.

"He talks about wanting his own flat and living on his own, and I hope that one day he will be able to live independently or semi independently. Living at home for ever wouldn't be good for him."

"I enjoy being independent," Jack says. "I go on the train to Harlow on my own to see my Nan and Granddad."

But overcoming people's attitudes towards disability can be a thankless task, and one that is not helped by the actions of comedians including Ricky Gervais, Frankie Boyle and Jimmy Carr, who have all sparked outrage for their offensive and ill-judged jokes.

The Clapson family have grown a thick skin against this kind of ignorance, but Jack's 15-year-old sister Beth admits that it can be hard at times. "Sometimes on the bus to school, people would say stuff to him and Jack would think they were having a laugh with him, when actually it was at him. That was hard."

Tina too has had to face up to the odd hurtful comment. "What I hated when Jack was little was when people said things that they obviously thought would make you feel better. They would say things like: 'Oh, but they're such loving children aren't they?' and I just wanted to say, well actually he can be really horrible and grumpy sometimes just like everyone else, and that is just a generalisation and a stereotype."

But despite the challenges the family have faced, a positive attitude and a determination to stand up against the stereotypes has seen them through. Jack is an inspiring young man and proof that disability can be overcome.

"My advice for other families in a similar situation would be don't shut yourself away and to enjoy your child," says Tina. "It is difficult at times because you have a child with special needs but I always try to see the positives.

"At each stage of Jack's development, you always think: 'he is never going to walk, never going to talk' but they always do get there and do that one thing you never think they will be able to."

Bob, 81, to take on coastal hike

AT an age when many would be putting their feet up, Bob Cornwall is about to set off on a 110-mile coastal walk for a cause close to his heart.

Bob, 81, has suffered from glaucoma for more than 30 years and wanted to do something to raise awareness about the condition before his eyesight deteriorates any further.

On July 14 he will set out from Bournemouth and walk along the coast to Torquay, a hike he expects will take 12 days to complete.

As well as raising money for the International Glaucoma Association, a charity for people with the condition, he hopes to encourage people to regularly visit the opticians and have their eyes checked for the condition.

Bob, of Manor Farm Close, Haverhill, lost his wife Betty to heart problems in January and started his walking hobby after suffering a heart attack two years ago.

He is concerned that many people are unaware of the condition, particularly drivers, with a high proportion of accidents caused by sight problems.

Bob, who worked at International Flavours and Fragrances (IFF) in Haverhill for 34 years, said: "I was evacuated down to Paignton during the war and it is an area I know well.

"My eyesight is deteriorating, so

I wanted to do something while I could for the group, as they have helped me a lot.

"I have had operations and lasers and use eye drops every day. Without the treatment I have had I would have been blind in 1980.

"There is a lot that can be done if people get treatment early on, but you do not get any pain, so people may not realise they have it.

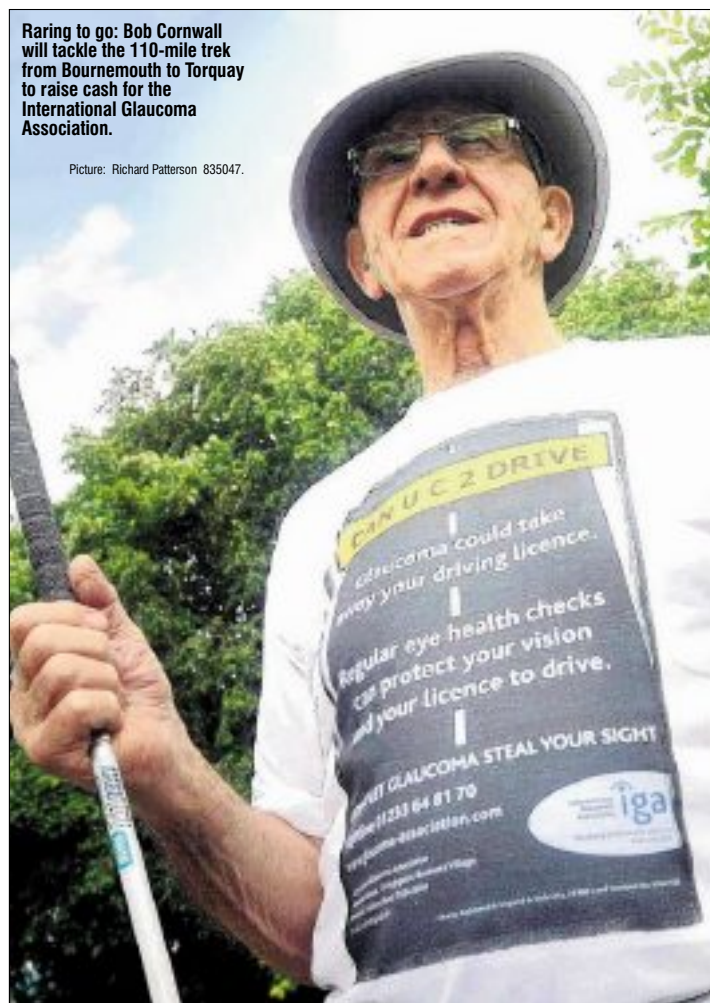

"My main reason for doing this is to encourage people to get their eyes checked regularly."

As well as still walking regularly, Bob is also a member of Haverhill Bowls Club and will have sponsor forms there, as well as at IFF.

Anyone who would like to support Bob can email marketing@iga.org.uk and they will be sent a sponsorship form.

Raring to go: Bob Cornwall will tackle the 110-mile trek from Bournemouth to Torquay to raise cash for the International Glaucoma Association.

Indian head in culture exchange

PUPILS at a school in India will be able learning about life in England after their head teacher paid a visit to a school in Haverhill.

Earlier this year Jan Bergau, Head of Internationalism at Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill, went to India with pupils Ellie Rodwell and George Fryer to look at the diversity between the two schools and to set up projects.

Now Paramita Roy Chaudhury, headteacher of a school in Jamshedpur with 2,500 pupils aged from four to 18, has made a return visit.

She observed lessons, and liaised with staff from different departments to set up a variety of projects including textiles embroidery, appliqué and quilting, writing poems, religious studies and human rights.

Mrs Roy Chaudhury said: "I enjoyed my visit at the Samuel Ward Academy. I had the opportunity of meeting groups of dynamic youngsters and a team of dedicated teachers.

"There was never a dull moment in the classes that I attended and the teachers made sure that every child was involved in the classroom activities.

"I wish to express my special thanks to the academy for answering my queries patiently. With such a team in place, I am sure that the school will move ahead in the years to come."

Mrs Bergau said: "I think it has been fantastic that we have been able to have this two-way exchange, not only to have a very good working partnership but friendships have also developed."

Where there's brass, there's Tim

MUSICIAN and teacher Tim Pannell got a special treat when he played with the world famous Grimethorpe Colliery Band.

The band, which is fourth in the world rankings, provided the soundtrack and on-screen musicians for Brassed Off, and its demise was loosely featured in the 1996 film about coal pit closures.

Tim, principal cornet of Haverhill Silver Band, guested for the band at the annual Whit Friday march competition held around Saddleworth, Lancashire, taking the position of co-principal. Their final performance, just before midnight, saw the band using miners' helmets, much to the delight of the crowds lining the streets.

Tim has connections with other band members due to his time with the National Youth Brass Band of Great Britain.

Tim is a peripatetic tutor at Swavesey Village College and teaches brass, guitar, drums, piano and music theory locally.

He is also set to tour nationally with London based pop band The Secret Affair.

On top of the world

SIR Ranulph Fiennes is embarking upon a new adventure this summer as comes to Cambridge with his tour recounting his adventures in a new “audience with...” style theatre show, Everest, The Eiger & More.

Described by The Guinness Book of Records as “the world’s greatest living explorer”, Sir Ranulph’s exploits, escapades and expeditions have taken him in almost every direction around the globe, including a 52,000-mile odyssey through both poles in the first polar circumnavigation of the Earth, the first crossing of Antarctica and the Arctic Ocean, and the first crossing of the Antarctic Continent by foot.

He has led more than 30 expeditions, climbed to the highest peak on the planet, discovered the lost Arabian city of Ubar, undertaken the first hovercraft ascent of the Nile and conquered the first 7x7x7 Challenge: seven marathons, on seven continents, in seven consecutive days... just three months after a massive heart attack, a three-day coma and a double bypass.

Not content with these super-human endeavours, former SAS demolitions expert and author of 19 books, Fiennes set his sights on climbing Everest’s Tibetan-side – despite suffering from vertigo and possessing no climbing experience – to raise £2m for the British Heart Foundation’s new research MRI scanner.

Two years later, in 2007, Sir Ranulph climbed what is arguably the world’s toughest ascent, the dreaded North Face of the Eiger, raising £1.8m for Marie Curie Cancer Care’s Delivering Choice Programme, following the loss of his first wife three years earlier.

In 2008, Sir Ranulph returned to Everest to climb the Nepalese-side and raised a further £2.5m for the same Marie Curie Programme, this time coming within 400m of the summit.

One year on, in 2009, Sir Ranulph finally summited Everest, at the age of 64.

Everest, The Eiger & More is the inspirational story of how Sir Ranulph conquered his fears to reach the summit of two of the most dangerous mountains in the world. Joined on stage by his Eiger guide – climbing expert Ian Parnell – who will be posing questions to the living legend, Sir Ranulph will delve deep to entrance audiences with his courageous stories.

DETERMINED: Sir Ranulph Fiennes will tell the story of how he conquered his fears – and two of the world’s most dangerous mountains.

■ Ranulph Fiennes: Everest, The Eiger & More, Cambridge Corn Exchange, June 25 at 8pm. Tickets are £18 from (01223) 357851 / www.cornex.co.uk.

Crocodile tears...

ACCLAIMED children's theatre company Blunderbuss bring their new production of The Selfish Crocodile to Haverhill Arts Centre on Thursday, August 2 at 2pm.

The show is based on the best-selling children's picture book by Faustin Charles and Michael Terry, and has been adapted for the stage by Blunderbuss.

The Selfish Crocodile tells the story of Mr Crocodile, who lives deep in the forest by the banks of a great river. He is a very selfish crocodile and he won't share the river with any of the other animals. He thinks it is his river, so, the other animals stay away.

Then, one day, they hear a terrible scream and think he has eaten someone. But Mr Crocodile has got a toothache and he is crying real tears. No-one dares to help him, they just stand and stare. Then, a very brave little mouse appears and thinks of a very clever way to solve this snappy dilemma.

Blunderbuss storytellers use song, music and a host of beautiful puppets to bring this watery adventure to life. This is a must-see production for 3-7 year olds, their grown-ups, and of course, anybody with a pet crocodile. It includes puppetry, story telling and fantastic handcrafted sets and props.

Gervase has a lesson in life for you

A HEART-warming evening with a man dubbed 'the James Herriot of Schools' is on offer tomorrow

Gervase Phinn, one of Britain's greatest comic writers and raconteurs, has been touring and selling out theatres across the country for more than nine years. He appears at Haverhill Arts Centre tomorrow at 8pm.

A comedian, author, poet, broadcaster, lecturer, educational guru, after-dinner speaker and born raconteur, Gervase is perhaps best known for his best-selling series of five Dales books for Penguin. His warm-hearted reminiscences about the life of a schools inspector in the Yorkshire Dales have featured heavily on Radio 4's Book Of The Week and Book At Bedtime slots.

He has also written a wide range of academic books, children's poetry and fiction, has made numerous television and radio appearances. He has spent the last six years developing a rollickingly good stand-up routine based on his unique and comprehensive knowledge of life in and around education.

Phinn continues to write a weekly column for the Yorkshire Post and a monthly piece for the Countryside magazine as well as occasional pieces for the Dalesman, Down Your Way, the Daily Mail, the Daily Express and the Times Educational Supplement.

In his show, he shares his hilarious and sometimes poignant tales of life as a schools inspector in the Yorkshire Dales. The best-selling and award winning author, radio and television personality really is at his best in front of a live audience

Tickets are £16.50 and can be booked through the box office on 01440 714140 or at www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk.

news from

FAMILY theatre at its very best and adapted from the original story with all new songs and a chance for the audience to take part, Image Musical Theatre bring The Wizard of Oz, suitable for 7 years and over, to the Arts Centre on Saturday at 2.30pm.

After the defeat of the wicked witch, the friends are given more than they originally requested, but will Dorothy ever get back home to Kansas? During a light-hearted half-hour rehearsal, some children are chosen and rehearsed into their parts while the rest of the audience is taught the choruses of four songs. During the interval the actors and children are costumed and when the one-hour show starts everyone gets to take part.

With his repertoire of ballads to ragtime, dance music to light classical, Robert Wolfe, the resident organist at the Thursford Collection in Norfolk, will be here on Tuesday, June 26 at 7.30pm. Robert is often heard on Radio 2 and has been featured on TV, including playing live to an audience of around 20m for The National Lottery.

In 1968, the BBC Man Alive programme made a hyper-critical documentary, predicting a gloomy future for the town. Now, 40-plus years later, a group of local people have produced their 'riposte' – a documentary which addresses the issues and shows how Haverhill has moved on, matured and succeeded. Haverhill... Very Much Man Alive is showing on Wednesday June 27 at 7.30pm. Let's show them!

The international pianists The Cann Twins make a welcome return to Haverhill on Thursday, June 28 at 7.30pm. Their dazzling programme on two pianos will include an Olympian Fanfare to celebrate the presence of the Olympic Torch in Haverhill and also music from Bizet's Carmen, Liszt's virtuosic Mazeppa and Gershwin's iconic Rhapsody in Blue.

THE FIVE-YEAR ENGAGEMENT

Certificate 15, 2h04m

LOVE hurts – though not too badly – in Nicholas Stoller's romantic comedy about a doe-eyed couple whose rose-tinted dreams of marital bliss are undone by the pressures of everyday life.

The Five-Year Engagement is written by Stoller and leading man Jason Segel and trades heavily on the winning rapport between Segel and British actress Emily Blunt.

The leads gel delightfully in front of the cameras and kindle sparks of sexual chemistry that have us rooting for their soon-to-be-weds when fate conspires to tear them apart.

San Francisco sous chef Tom (Segel) meets psychology graduate Violet (Blunt) at a 'Make Your Own Superhero' party. On the first anniversary of that meeting, Tom nervously pops the question with help from his best friend Alex (Chris Pratt).

Tom's parents Pete (David

Paymer) and Carol (Mimi Kennedy) and Violet's mother Sylvia (Jacki Weaver) are thrilled and, at the subsequent engagement party, bed-hopping ladies' man Alex has an encounter with Violet's emotionally volatile sister Suzie (Alison Brie) that he will never forget.

Soon after, Violet secures a doctoral position at Michigan University, studying under Professor Winton Childs (Rhys Ifans), and so Tom selflessly sacrifices his career to follow her to the frozen Midwest.

However, the move puts the relationship under intolerable strain and Tom and Violet contemplate breaking off the engagement to pursue their career ambitions in separate states.

Stoller's slick confection woos us with a terrific opening 30 minutes of zinging one-liners and colourful supporting performances. After the promising start, the initial attraction to the script and the characters wanes and we almost fall out of love entirely with the film during a plodding and bloated middle section that noticeably treads water.

Go natural to boost butterflies

BUTTERFLIES have long been among the prettiest visitors to the British garden, feeding on buddleia and other nectar-rich plants, providing movement, colour and interest for all as well as being beneficial pollinators.

But the terrible summers of the last two years and the cold, wet weather in late spring and early summer have all contributed to a reduction in numbers, according to the charity Butterfly Conservation, the world's largest research institute for butterflies and moths.

"This spring could have been catastrophic for butterflies, because it means we will have had three really bad breeding seasons in a row," says Dr Martin Warren, the charity's chief executive.

"We have evidence that even common butterflies such as the small tortoiseshell are getting

by Hannah Stephenson

much rarer. Almost three-quarters of UK butterfly species have decreased in population during the last decade. Last year we saw a quarter less butterflies than in the previous year."

The weather in recent years has just exacerbated the situation, Warren continues.

"In 2010 and 2011 we had a really bad July and August, as butterflies struggled to feed, fly and find a mate in the chilly conditions. The cold, wet weather in summer reduces their chances of survival."

The charity is urging people take part in this year's Big Butterfly Count, from July 14 to August 5, in which people record their sightings to provide the vital data which helps to determine how best to conserve the UK's butterflies.

To enter, just find a sunny place and spend 15 minutes counting every butterfly seen and then submit sightings online at www.bigbutterflycount.org.

But it is also hoping that gardeners can help boost populations by encouraging a small patch of their garden to grow wild, so providing a vital haven for threatened species.

"Habitats where butterflies breed are becoming much smaller, as people have gone for formal gardens and more pesticide use. Butterflies tend to breed in long grasses and wildflower meadows, but much of that habitat has been lost."

Leaving a patch of your garden wild doesn't mean it will just be a mess, he says. Seeding it with herbs such as oregano, thyme and marjoram will not only provide rich nectar sources for butterflies, but will also be useful in the kitchen.

Buddleia has long been seen

as the key species to attract colourful red admirals, peacocks and small tortoiseshells. But less showy plants such as clover, ivy and daisies provide caterpillars and butterflies with much-needed food and shelter.

Steer clear of "double flowers" as they tend to produce much less nectar than single-flowered varieties. F1 hybrid plants also usually produce very little pollen.

Spare a few brambles and nettles from the chop and plant some wildflowers and you will be providing your garden butterflies with a vital source of food and shelter.

Verbenas are good nectar plants, especially Verbena bonariensis, a very popular border perennial from South America.

Michaelmas daisies, including asters, lavender, the ice plant (Sedum spectabile), scabious and honesty, are all butterfly magnets.

Certainly this year's garden shows so far, including Chelsea, have shown a move away from formal towards more natural planting with native species – and if we all follow suit, we may give the butterflies the boost they need.

■ The Big Butterfly Count runs from July 14 to August 5.

Open house weekend matches many buyers to sellers

LEADING East Anglian estate agent Abbotts has successfully matched up local house buyers and sellers after taking part in what turned out to be the UK's largest ever National Open House Weekend on May 12 and 13, an event that attracted over 84,000 viewings from prospective homebuyers throughout the UK.

More than 19,000 properties took part in this year's event, with sellers in Haverhill and across the country opening their doors for the weekend, inviting interested buyers to view their properties.

Abbotts secured a large number of viewings for properties in the area, with a significant proportion of these leading to sales and further enquiries.

Philip Macdonald, managing director at Abbotts, said: "As the leading agent in the area, our main focus is to help match up local sellers with buyers.

"The annual National Property Showcase and Open House Weekend is a great example of the innovative initiatives we offer to help our sellers get their properties in front of eager buyers.

"We've seen many prospective buyers at our branches who have been interested in our sellers' properties and have availed themselves of the opportunity to view and compare properties easily throughout the weekend.

"The properties which attracted serious buyers were the ones which were priced correctly. That's why it is important for sellers to take advice from an estate agent who has local knowledge of the area, who has good branch coverage in the wider area, as well as a prominent internet and marketing presence.

"Properties in the area are clearly in high demand, but many people who are eager to buy face the barrier of deposit affordability and mortgage availability.

"For those seeking mortgage advice, experienced mortgage consultants from Countrywide Mortgage Services are happy to help by explaining which mortgage products are currently available as well as the differences in rates, terms, incentives and types."

For more information or advice, contact Abbotts of Haverhill on (01440) 702575.

The Stig to comper Two Counties on Sunday

IN this Diamond Jubilee year, the Two Counties Classic Car Show is marking the occasion by having a range of cars that cover every decade since the Queen's coronation.

Celebrated manufacturers such as Alvis, Austin, Bond and Marcos join forces with Rolls Royce to span more than 60 years of automotive history.

Motoring royalty will be on site to ensure the event runs with regal quality, his Royal Highness, The Stig, will be overseeing the whole event.

The show is also host to a number of car clubs dedicated to the preservation of "new classics" such as Ford XR, RS Escorts and Fiestas. Their tireless efforts are helping to ensure that the era of mass ownership remains as memorable as ever.

Heading the 1970's Muscle Car display is Richard Hammond's choice, the Dodge Charger. This will be joined by a vast array of performance vehicles including Ford Mach 1, Plymouth Roadrunner, Ferrari, Aston Martin, Jaguar and Lamborghini. Each car will be accompanied by its proud owner and as usual, there'll be a few unusual surprise arrivals on the day.

Hosted by the Two Counties Motor Show, the Classic Car Show takes place from 9.30am-4.30pm on Sunday, June 24 at the Rowley Mile Racecourse in Newmarket. Tickets cost £5 for adults and £3 for children aged 11-16, under 11s are free; dogs (except guide and hearing dogs) are not permitted.

Organised by the Cambridge and Newmarket Lions Clubs, the show provides a great day out and raises much-needed funds for charity. As always, all proceeds will be going to local charities and this year, two inspirational groups will be the main beneficiaries The Spice Guides and PHAB.

For additional information about the show visit www.twocounties-motorshow.org.uk or alternatively email info@twocounties-motorshow.org.uk.

The boy Brunn good as spin ace wrecks leaders' record

» MARSHALL HATCHICK TWO COUNTIES CHAMPIONSHIP

CALLUM Brunning was among the wickets as Haverhill II ended the unbeaten record of hosts Melton St Audrey in Division Six.

Skipper Martyn Wilkins elected to bowl first, and he and Dan Pass bowled economically to hold the hosts to 44 without loss off 20 overs.

But 15-year-old Brunning was the star of the show, taking 5 for 62 with his off-spinners as Melton closed on 156 for 7.

Sam Hartshorn (42) and Phil Jones put on 45 for the first wicket in good time and this momentum was maintained throughout the innings as all the batsmen chipped in to take Haverhill to victory by four wickets in the 38th over.

In Division 8W, Lakenheath II's total of 196 for 7 was too much for Haverhill III to overhaul, as they were stopped on 166 for 8.

» HUNTS COUNTY BATS SUFFOLK LEAGUE

MARK Radford claimed four wickets, but could not prevent Haverhill's Sunday first team losing by 56 runs at Bury St Edmunds Academy in Division One.

Bury batted first and rode their luck to reach 101 for 1 off 20 overs. But

Zaheer helps Hundon hit peak

» ADAMS HARRISON MIDWEEK LEAGUE

CHRIS Baldwin and Martyn Farrant steered Hundon to a narrow victory over Weston Colville to go top of Division One West.

Baldwin made 47 and Farrant 40 as Hundon posted 145 for 8 in their overs, before holding Colville to 142 for 7. Adam Taylor made 32 for the beaten side and Zaheer Khan took 3 for 27 for Hundon. Haverhill were thumped by Saffron Walden, who posted 196 for 4 in their 20 overs, thanks to 125 by their East Anglian Premier League captain, Glen Batticciotto.

Radford's haul, with help from Liam Botten and Rob Sullivan, sent the hosts into decline and they lost their last nine wickets for just 60.

In reply, Bury's East Anglian Premier League opening bowlers Nunn and Robotham both bowled exceptionally quick and with good direction.

Fox batted bravely for 29 against a barrage of short-pitched bowling, and Davis amashed some late runs with 36, but Haverhill were all out for 105.

Martyn Wilkins was unbeaten on 75 as Haverhill II beat Withersfield by Haverhill replied with 112 for 9, Luke Youngs making 32. Horseheath held off Haverhill II in a low-scoring Division Two West match. Martyn Wilkins took 3 for 15 as Horseheath were restricted to 87 for 5, but it proved enough as Haverhill managed only 78 for 8 in reply, with Jamie Boulton scoring 33. David Lowe took 3 for 21 for the victors. In Division Three West, Nick Griggs made 39 and Chris Matthews took 3 for 15 as Linton (151 for 7) comfortably beat Wrattling Lions (79 for 9), while Helions Bumpstead (84 for 9) went down by 21 runs against Ickleton (105 for 8).

seven wickets in Division Three. The visitors were restricted to 148 for 7, with skipper Steve Saville taking 4 for 24, before opener Wilkins supervised the successful run chase.

» TUCKER GARDNER CAMBS AND HUNTS PREMIER LEAGUE

ANDY Brightmore and Adie Westley both cracked half-centuries in Weston Colville's 47-run triumph over leaders Cambridge NCI in Division Two.

The former got 65 and the latter compiled 52 as the hosts piled up 218 for 9, with James Horne (3 for 53) being the best of the bowlers. Horne then fought hard with the bat for a knock of 68, but Adie Westley, Trevor Westley and Matt Daniels all claimed two scalps to remove the table-toppers for 171.

» MR CRICKET CCA SENIOR LEAGUE

LEE Ingram put Horseheath to the sword as Kimbolton & Catworth romped to a 172-run triumph away from home in Division One.

The opener struck 130 and had good support from Chris Gilthorpe, who was unbeaten on 91 when the visitors closed on 258 for 3. Gary Ellis took 2 for 49.

Tom Gilthorpe (4 for 37) and Marcus Telford (3 for 12) then tore into Horseheath to leave them all out for 86, with Dan Goldsmith top-scoring with 27.

Balsham came unstuck against Wisbech II in Division Two.

John Barnes (48) was the only batsman to get in for the hosts, with 32 extras boosting them as they put 117 all out on the board.

The visitors had 13 overs remaining when they reached 118 for 3 in reply. Mark Ashworth claimed 2 for 35 and Barnes got the other wicket to fall.

Victory Vince as Chris takes title

CHRIS Vince is celebrating becoming the Suffolk Amateur Matchplay champion.

Vince beat Chris Soanes 3&1 in blustery conditions in the semi-finals at Halesworth, and the Haverhill player beat Chris Bartrum of Diss on the 17th hole in the final to earn the President's Mashie trophy.

■ Pat McGarr's hole in one was not enough to tip the balance in the Haverhill club's qualifying competition for the International Pairs event.

McGarr aced the 129-yard eighth hole using a nine iron, as he and partner Wayne Penman scored 41 points in the betterball event.

But they missed out to Eric Armstrong on countback, with Julian North and Mel Stuart also finishing on 41 points.

The best score returned was 42pts by the father-and-son pairing of Dave and Lewis Whiting, but at 14 years old, Lewis is not eligible for the final.

A total of 29 pairs took part in the betterball event, with the winners qualifying for the regional final to be played at Forest Pines in September.

■ Paul Bartlett had a one-shot winning margin in the men's midweek medal.

Bartlett carded the lowest gross round with 73-8-65, trimming his handicap by a shot to seven.

Full results – Division One: 1 Paul Bartlett 73-8-65, 2 Michael Bennett, 77-11-66, 3 Andy Softley 82-12-70. Division Two: 1 Howard Ward 85-15-70, 2 Darren Lyons 83-13-70, 3 Gavin Taylor 84-13-71. Division Three: 1 Chris Powell 92-23-69, 2 Brian Harney 97-22-75, 3 Barry Shuter 97-21-76.

■ Haverhill seniors were knocked out of the Beaumont Trophy by visitors Hintlesham in a close match.

Results (Haverhill team first): Keith McCallum & Dick Sisman halved with Pete Marsh & David Bowen; Paul Wallace & David Parsons bt Michael Knight & David Downes 1up; Syd Gould & Bob Hammett lost to David Sadler & John Perry 1down; Mike Barnham & Ivan Drury lost to Michael Gale & Colin Rose 2down.

■ Jack Bligh won the President's Putter, an individual medal event played off three-quarters handicap, limited to a maximum handicap of 18.

Bligh scored 74-5-69 to beat

Gavin Taylor (80-10-70) and Andy Gage (79-9-70).

■ A 5.30am start did not deter 56 competitors in the Midsummer Madness competition, a fourball team event, with three scores to count on each hole.

Winners Terry Pinkney, Pat O'Sullivan, Colin Ward and Sean Doyle scored 117pts to hold off two teams on 116. Bryan Graham, Steve Bush, Mark Barrett and Howard Ward took second on countback from Dave Perrett, Michael Perrett, Roger Turner and Scott Turner.

■ Lady captain Doreen Darbey's charity day raised around £800 for St Nicholas' Hospice.

The winners of the team event with 94 pts were Lesley Knight, Carolyn Harris and Jennifer Rowe from Colne Valley, with Pat Wellstead from Haverhill. In second place were Val Harrison, Rowena Haslam, Anita Meryrick and Amanda Young from Bishop's Stortford and third were Kim Davis, Georgina Holmes, Joanne Finter and Lizzie Laffin from Stowmarket.

Longest drive went to Shona Keene, from Gog Magog, and nearest the pin to Gill Clarke, from Gosfield.

Satbhai's class is not enough to save Haverhill

SATYAJIT Satbhai's knock of 70 was in vain as Haverhill's unbeaten start to the season in Division One came to an end at the hands of Frinton on Saturday.

Haverhill were put in to bat at Manor Road, and were soon reduced to 2 for 2. Satbhai and Luke Youngs tried to repair the damage but Youngs was removed by a vicious ball which he gloved to the wicketkeeper with the score on 29.

Nigel Brunning and Satbhai put on 47, with the latter harsh on any loose bowling, before Brunning was adjudged lbw for 14.

Satbhai was caught in the deep for 70 with the score on 101, and Haverhill quickly fell away to 117 all out.

Dan Poole kept Haverhill in the match with three early wickets, finishing with 3 for 26 off nine overs. Joe Woodley also had a scalp as Frinton slipped to 33 for 4.

However, visiting batsman Moulton was dropped with the score on 45 and went on to score an unbeaten 52 to steer his side to victory with no further loss, in company with Stockdale, who ended on 48 not out.

Captain Simon Youngs was positive in defeat, saying: "Although we only picked up three points, we gave them a competitive game and I'm pleased with a lot of what went on out there."

"Frinton are a very classy outfit and getting geared up for promotion to the EAPL in the next couple of seasons."

"It is hard to compete against teams like that when you don't have everything going your way, but we did that and they were worried for long periods within the match."

Haverhill are at home to unbeaten Mistley on Saturday.
